Palm Beach Libertarians Applaud Resignation of Pat Edmonson

Boynton Beach, Fla -- The Libertarian Party of Palm Beach County (LP Palm Beach) applauds the resignation of Palm Beach County Soil & Water Conservation District Vice-Chair Pat Edmonson yesterday. Edmonson, a Democrat, was caught in a profanity-laced Facebook rant calling a U.S. Veteran a traitor (see below).

Karl Dickey, Chair of LP Palm Beach, said this morning, “The horrid words Edmonson used about veterans who died in battle is unforgivable and we are glad she is gone. This is an opportunity to focus on the Soil & Water District’s effectiveness and its use of county taxpayer dollars. Perhaps the few functions it has could be streamlined elsewhere and some eliminated as ineffective. We suggest Palm Beach County Commissioners retract taxpayer funding for this agency in this upcoming round of budget planning.”

We understand that a statement made yesterday by the District on its Facebook page distancing itself from Edmonson was not approved by fellow supervisors and look for an answer as to how that post was put out. In that statement, it said, “Personal views or opinions expressed by elected Supervisors of the Palm Beach County Soil & Water Conservation District (SWCD) in ABSOLUTELY NO WAY reflect the views of opinions of the rest of the elected board or SWCD employees.”

“Do you smell the rotting flesh of those you’ve betrayed?...” “F*ck you, traitor.”

– Pat Edmondson, Vice Chair, Palm Beach Soil and Water Conservation Board of Supervisors
